SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Studies have showed that the COVID - 19 outbreak is associated with increased rates of psychiatric symptoms. However, information on the long - term mental health consequences of the COVID - 19 pandemic are limited. This MS mainly reviewed the current studies, risk factors, and the possible underlying mechanisms of psychiatric sequelae in COVID-19 survivors, which could improve our understanding of mental health and the COVID-19 pandemic. However, some revisions are still needed before being published in World Journal of Psychiatry.

1. In title, "A Narrative Review" should be changed to "A narrative review".
2. In page 1, "Author contributions:" should be added. Additionally, in page 13, "CONCLUSION" should also be provided according to the journal's requirements.
3. In page 3, line 10, "...COVID-19 survivors during 14-90 days following the diagnosis" should be changed to "...COVID-19 survivors during 14-90 days were observed following the diagnosis".
