SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Thank you for submitting your research to World Journal of Psychiatry. Overall, the paper is very well-written and it was a pleasure to read it. Nevertheless, I suggest that the manuscript is proofread by a native English speaker or Editing service. So please make sure there are no English errors. In addition, DSM-5 does not use the terms "eating disorders." Please replace them with "feeding and eating disorders." All in all, it is a good job.

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This study provides a bibliometric analysis of the literature in areas related to BED research and uses a visualization tool to map research patterns and trends, contributing to a comprehensive understanding of recent advances in BED research and identifying some future research directions. Paragraphs 9-11 of the Discussion section should be simplified. It is suggested that the five tables in the text be revised to three-line tables.

Paragraphs 9-11 of the Discussion section have not been revised in response to the review comments. The second "The fourth most cited article ....." in the discussion section, paragraph 9; it should be "The fifth most cited article ....." Since the authors of the 10 most cited articles and the journals that published them are listed in Table 5, it is sufficient to summarize and simplify only the research topics of these 10 articles in the text. The reference codes following the author column in Table 5 do not match the numbers in the right superscript in the corresponding paragraphs of the text; please read through the entire text and correct them.
