SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The article looks good and have a great insight on why nurses are required to have airway management training program. In fact, there are some articles talking about air management program in higher education. The authors can consider to list some recommendations that other educators can learn. The authors can review and cite "Details of selected articles related to STEM learning with a focus on aviation" in Motivating Students to Learn STEM via Engaging Flight Simulation Activities from Journal of Science Education and Technology, 1-22. <https://link.springer.com/article/10.1007/s10956-021-09907-2>.

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The manuscript "Airway management training program for nurses via online course in COVID-19 preparedness" is well-written, nevertheless, with a considerable number of participants, a few points that need to be addressed: -Major Figure 2 - no information on the vertical axis, only the mean is presented, please show SD or SEM. My suggestion is also to perform a comparison between before and after with connecting lines between individual data. Please provide the questionnaire used. More information on the investigated public, such as age, years post graduation, years working in the job,
