In response to the opinions given by the experts, I have revised each one:

1. The pulmonary clinical manifestations of CMML patients, including leukemia infiltration, were discussed with reference to the literature.

2. The expression of two concurrent malignant tumors that do not originate from the same tumor cell has been cancelled.

3. The effects of coexistence of ASXL1 and EZH2 mutations on the prognosis of patients, the references have been revised in the discussion.

4. Treatment analysis and discussion have been modified in the discussion section.

5. Some up-to-date literature has been added according to expert advice.
