The review's composition comment on the manuscript and my answer

1. The author should revise the description of the case report and summarize by describing more briefly the histological findings of both tumors.

Answer: Yes, I agree with your comment and we have simplified the description of the condition and used more refined language to describe the histological manifestations of two types of tumors accordingly.

Thank you again for publishing our manuscript in the World Journal of Clinical Cases.

Sincerely yours,

Jun Hu, MD
