

Dear Science Editor and Editor-in-chief:

Thank you very much for your review and evaluation of the manuscript. The signed Conflict-of-Interest Disclosure Form and Copyright License Agreement have been provided, together with the approval fund document. The original pictures in the article are also provided in file named Figures.ppt. We have made appropriate adjustments to the contents according to the results of Crosscheck. According to the results of the Crosscheck, more than 6% of the parts are footnotes. This part of the content is created according to the template provided by the editorial department, and I wonder if this part should be deleted during the crosscheck process.

I am looking forward to your early reply.

Sincerely

Yunliang Wang
