

Dear editors and reviewers of WJCC,

I am very happy to receive your comments. Your opinion is very professional and we all accept it. The article is modified as follows according to your requirements:

1. Modified the syntax of the paragraph initials without capitalization.
2. Increased the each pilot's average flight time per year after resuming flying. "Average flight time is about 250 hours per year.".....
3. Added discussion content to further explore the issue of whether tactical requirements can be fitted after recovery. "It is the duty of our military surgeons to maintain the health of the pilots and maintain their combat effectiveness. It is the goal of our work to enable the sick pilots to get the correct treatment and resume flying. However, whether the pilots who resume flying can fit with the tactical requirements is still an important problem to be faced. This group of studies shows that pilots who resume flight basically fit with the flight time required for training. This is to be gratified. Among them, there are also unremitting efforts of the sick pilots after recovery."
4. Revised the author contribution part. "Gu GL and Duan FX contributed equally to this study; Gu GL, Cui L and Zhang B designed the research; Gu GL, Duan FX, Zhang Z and Wei XM collected and analyzed the clinical data; Gu GL and Zhang B wrote the manuscript; Cui L revised the manuscript."

Sincerely

GU GUOLI
