

Answer the issues raised in the peer review report:

1 First of all, it is written and structured according to the provided guidelines for manuscript writing of World Journal of Clinical Cases (first page, core tip, case report paragraphs etc. are missing - please check <https://www.wjgnet.com/bpg/GerInfo/187> .

Thank you very much. I have revised according to the provided guideline.

2 Some language polishing needed (some spelling mistakes, language style as well).

I have asked an native speaker for help.

3 Line 63 – MRI, line 74 CT – please explain the abbreviations.

I have add Abbreviations at page 1.

4 Line 78 – what conservative treatment was applied? How long it took to recover?

We did not use a operation, and we call conservative treatment. It took one month for her to recover, and I have add it to this paper.

5 Is a follow up needed for this patient?

It did not need for this people to follow up this complication.

6 Although it is a rare case, it is not new or challenging.

It is a rare case. According this case, it tell us that we can not ignore such complications, if they occur, can be fatal.

7 Did the patient have any risk factors that coulc cause arrachboid cyst (trauma etc.)?

None.

8 What was your differential diagnosis before the MRI scan?

None.

9 Line 134 - "Consent for publication" – incomplete sentence.

I have delete this incomplete sentence.

10 Line 135 – looks like you forgot to correct the journal name you are applying to "All authors have approved the manuscript and agree with submission to Journal of Chinese Neurosurgical Journal".

I am so sorry for it. I have delete this wrong sentence.

11 Finally, it looks like resubmitted after previous rejection from another journal according to that journal's requirements and not the one you are now applying.

I am so sorry for it. I have revised this paper again according to the provided guideline.
