Interesting study about the nursing environment. I am a Clinician, but the nursing environment is indeed very important in the medical service. Thank you.

This is an interesting about the nursing work environment on the work-family conflicts in operating room nurses. Operating room nurses have heavy workload, high pressure and irregular work and life. With the increase of age, nurses play more roles in hospitals and families, such as nursing decision makers, caregivers, mothers, resulting in the conflict between their work and family, that is, work-family conflict. Most operating room nurses feel guilty about their family, which undermines quality of nursing, while a comfortable working environment helps reduce the sense of job burnout and mobilize their work enthusiasm. This study analyzed the effect of the perception of nursing work environment on their work-family conflict among operating room nurses. And the authors aimed to alleviate nurses' work-family conflict, maintain their physical and mental health and promote the career development. This study is very well designed, the results are very interesting. The results of this manuscript will make more managers pay attention to the working environment of nurses. Comments: 1. The manuscript is very well written, however, some minor editing is required. 2. A short background should be added to the abstract. 3. $X \pm sd$ should be changed to mean \pm SD. 4. References should be edited according to the journal's guideline.
