

To Reviewer #1

Thank you very much for your cheerful and positive comment.

This is a case report of primary aldosteronism caused by bilateral micronodular hyperplasia and concomitant Cushing's syndrome. I think the paper is interesting, the problems of diagnosis have been well discussed, and it is suitable for publication.