

Specific Comments to Authors: The present editorial discussed whether new antiviral treatments for HDV, such as Bulevirtide, or immunosuppressive drugs, are more appropriate for the management of patients with Hepatitis Delta Virus and Autoimmune Hepatitis (AIH). The discussion was insightful and comprehensive.

Reply: First of all we would like to thank the reviewer for the specific comments. As for the language quality we have sent the manuscript for language editing and have required the Non-Native Speakers of English Editing Certificate.
