

Dear Reviewer,

We would like to express our sincere gratitude for reviewing our letter titled Exploring Non-Curative Endoscopic Submucosal Dissection: Current Treatment Optimization and Future Indication Expansion, which we submitted to the World Journal of Gastroenterology. Your valuable feedback and recognition of the content are greatly appreciated.

First and foremost, we are thankful for your meticulous review, which not only acknowledged the merits of our manuscript but also highlighted some language irregularities. We acknowledge that our letter contained some linguistic issues, and we would like to assure you that we have taken immediate action to address these concerns. We have submitted the revised version of the manuscript to a professional proofreading service to enhance its language quality. In the revised manuscript, we have marked the revised sections with yellow highlighting to facilitate easy identification of the changes made. Additionally, we have included the proofreading certificate as an attachment for your reference.

We would like to express our sincere appreciation for your commendation and for recognizing the significance of our work. Your positive feedback further encourages us to continue our efforts in this research domain. We consider it a great honor to receive your approval and validation of our findings.

If you have any further questions or require additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us. We are more than willing to provide any necessary clarifications or address any concerns you may have.

Once again, we extend our deepest gratitude for your time, expertise, and positive evaluation of our letter. We look forward to your continued guidance and the opportunity to contribute to the advancement of knowledge in the field of gastroenterology.

Best regards,

Liansong Ye, on behalf of the research team
