

Revisions:

Reviewer 1

1. Added arrows in relevant sections of the figures.
2. No methods section since this is a case report.

Reviewer 2

1. English has been improved throughout the manuscript. The mentor (last author) is a native English speaker. The manuscript has been reviewed multiple times to correct language.
2. The abstract includes quantitative information including the laboratory values.
3. Conclusion is concise.
4. This is not the first case of plasma cell leukemia but has a good teaching value.
5. References have been updated as required by the journal.
6. All the references suggested by our esteemed reviewer are about very basic cancer compounds and anti-cancer drugs. I feel like they do not add value to our case since they are not relevant to our case study.