

1.The title does reflect the main subject of the manuscript, it however needs some grammatical revision.

We've made changes to the title.

2.The abstract summarizes the work described. Statement, Overexpression of TMEM100 resulted in decreased expression in ESCC cells, does not make sense, needs re-wording.

We made an error in writing the article and have reworded it

3.Methods, I felt the methods need to be a little more descriptive to ascertain the purpose of each experiment, although this is again described in the results, which could be changed and more detailed.

The purpose of the experiment has been stated in the results.
