

ANSWER TO REVIEWERS

Many thanks to the editors for their suggestion to insert a table summarising the most significant results. The following table has been included:

FACTOR TYPES	FACTOR SUB-TYPEs	SPECIFIC ASPECT	ADHERENCE/COMPLIANCE
Immediate factors		Trust in the	Higher level of trust	Higher compliance government
		Perception of risk	Higher perception of risk
		Search for information	More search of information
		Perception of compliance with rules	Perceiving compliance as a moral obligation
Previous risk-factors	Social factors	Gender	Women	Higher compliance
		Age	Older people
			Machiavelism
	Personal factors	Personality traits	Narcisism	Lower compliance
			Psychopathy
			Antisocial traits
		Risk taking	More risk taking
		Empathy and prosocial behavior	Higher empathy and prosocial behavior: higher compliance
		Self-control	More self-control: higher compliance

Need for cognition	Tendency to seek information and to follow a systematic thinking	Higher compliance
Time-perspective	"carpe diem" perspective
Motivation	Autonomous motivation
Influence of peers	Depending on peers' attitudes
Number of elderly people one knows	Higher number
