Title: New Developments in Transplant-Acquired (Food or Inhalant) Allergies

Author: Öner Özdemir

Name of Journal: World Journal of Transplantation

ESPS Manuscript NO: 39577

1 The manuscript has been improved according to the suggestions of reviewers:

Revision has been made according to the suggestions of the reviewer.

(1) What do the authors impact in this paper? -Reviewer 70310-

- Emerging findings on transplant-acquired allergy development related to various transplantations (e.g. lung, intestine, heart, etc.) , clinical presentations and prognosis of transplant-acquired allergy are described.

(2) Most parts of Abstract section are copy and paste from Background section and should be rewrite. -Reviewer 503430-

- Abstract is re-written.

(3) May be, inclusion of one or two Tables (for example comparison of the effects of tacrolimus vers. cyclosporin A, liver vers. other organs, risk factors, immunological aspects, etc.) should make the review more attractive. - Reviewer 504335-

- Tables comparing the effects of tacrolimus vs. CsA and liver vs. other organ transplantations on development of transplant-acquired allergy are given in tables 1 and 2.

(4) I wonder why have you not performed a comprehensive review on such an important issue! - Reviewer 503228-

- Thanks for your point and interest. In the beginning, I mistakenly thought that there is a limit for this kind of manuscript for this journal and kept it a little short.

2 References were corrected (doi and PMID numbers are given).

3 Language are checked by me thru manuscript.

4 Changes are highlighted in yellow.

Thank you again for evaluating my manuscript for the World Journal of Transplantation.

Sincerely yours,

Öner Özdemir, MD
