

Language certificate

Due to financial restrictions and unavailability of funds for publication purposes, we cannot afford to request a certificate by a professional English language editing company. Nonetheless, the manuscript has been edited by a native English speaker colleague, who formally revised the text.