

Dear Editor,

First of all, thank you very much for your edit of our manuscript! Both of the reviewers have commented Grade A on the language evaluation of our manuscript, thus proving that the language of our manuscript has met the requirement of the journal. In addition, we have successfully published several manuscripts in other journals covered by SCI, such as PloS One, without any polish of English language conducted by third-party editing services, suggesting that our ability of English language usage has been fully recognized.
