Regarding your request for an English language certificate from a company, we would like to clarify that the corresponding author is a native English speaker, and they also successfully qualified the IELTS exam in 2006, which demonstrates their proficiency in the English language.

Given these qualifications and our dedication to improving the language in the manuscript, we believe that an English language certificate from a company may not be necessary in this case. We have thoroughly reviewed and enhanced the language throughout the manuscript to ensure its clarity and coherence. We are confident that the manuscript now meets the required language standards for publication in World Journal of Diabetes.

Once again, we appreciate your valuable feedback and will gladly provide any additional revisions or information if needed to facilitate the review process. Please let us know if you have any further suggestions or requirements.

Thank you for your consideration.
